Halloween night

Learning aim: telling a story with adverbs of manner

On Halloween, 31st October, Mira and her friends went trick-or-treating.

Mira was happy because she didn't have to buy a costume. She wore her normal witch clothes. Zeynep, Jennifer and Colin dressed up as a sad ghost, a pumpkin and a skeleton. They went from house to house and asked for sweets.

"I have to go home now. Mum said I have to be home at quarter past 9," Mira said sadly. "Oh come on! Just one more street. My bag isn't full," Colin answered. "Well, OK! Let's try to get some more sweets before we go home," Mira said. So the children decided to quickly go to one more house.

When they arrived at Mr Walker's house, they saw that the big brown front door was open. That was strange. The children didn't know what to do. But Mira was worried: "Perhaps Mr Walker needs help. Let's go inside and have a quick look."

They went inside slowly and looked around the house carefully. It was very dark and they couldn't see very well. "Hello? Mr Walker? Are you at home?" they asked.

Suddenly, the door closed behind them. The children could not see a thing. They were really afraid. Colin felt a cold hand on his arm and screamed. Jennifer hit her head hard on something.

After a minute, Zeynep found the front door and opened it. They all ran out fast and didn't stop until they got to the Broomsticks' house.

"Hey, where's my bag? And where are my sweets?" Zeynep and Colin shouted angrily. "Oh no, somebody has taken our sweets! Let's go and find the thief!" Mira answered.
